Reasons: Not to collect Customers' Numbers at the Service Counter

- 0 Some customers are visitors to your location and are not likely to return until another event brings them back. Sending them offers might be a total waste of resource and may be perceived as a disturbance.
- 0 It would increase the amount of time spent attending to a customer which could agitate other hungry customers waiting on queue and result in loss of sales when impatient customers walk out.
- 0 Customers would be asked for number on a repeat visit to your restaurant and end up feeling unrecognised and unvalued by the business.
- 0 Uninterested or angry customers can dampen the morale of your service employees.
